

penses of executing the provisions of this Act for the period beginning on the last Saturday in June, 1920, and ending the 31st day of August, 1921.

Section 2. The fact that the present Commission of Appeals will expire by its own limitation on the last Saturday in June, 1920 and before the convening of the Thirty-seventh Legislature, and the further fact that the docket of the Supreme Court is still in a very crowded condition and will be so at the time the Commission of Appeals would expire, and the great necessity that cases pending now on the cause docket of the Supreme Court shall be disposed of as expeditiously as may be done, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity requiring the suspension of the constitutional rule that bills be read in each House on three several days, and that this Act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Provided that the interest on all securities held by the Deaf and Dumb Institute is hereby appropriated in part payment of the appropriation for the Deaf and Dumb Institute, the remainder of the appropriation to be paid out of the general revenue.

Provided that the sum of Two Thousand Dollars ($2,000.00) is hereby appropriated for each year beginning September 1, 1919, and September 1, 1920, out of the proceeds of the sale of all products raised or manufactured by this institution; that a full and complete accounting of such expenditures shall be filed with the Comptroller and that all proceeds over and above Two Thousand ($2,000.00) for each year shall be deposited in the State Treasury.

Provided that the head of said institution shall keep a record of the absences of the various employees and the reasons therefor, whether from sickness, vacation or leave of absence, and that the record of such absence be incorporated in the report made annually by the head of said institution.

The appropriations herein provided for are to be construed as the maximum sums to be appropriated to and for the several purposes named herein, and no expenditures shall be made, nor shall any obligations be incurred, which added to the actual expenditures, will exceed the amounts herein appropriated for either of the said purposes, except under the provisions provided for in Article 4342 of Chapter 2, Title 65 of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1911.

Provided that no money herein or hereby appropriated for any purpose shall be paid to any person, directly or indirectly, who is not at the time of receiving such pay, remuneration or emolument, a citizen of the United States, under the laws of the United States; provided, however, that this Act shall not apply to any person who is not a citizen of the United States, under the laws of the United States, who has resided in Texas for a period of ten years, and who shall, within thirty days after this Act shall take effect, make application to become a citizen of the United States, and who shall, within two years after making such application, become a citizen of the United States, under the naturalization laws of the United States.

Sec. 2. Provided that all new buildings authorized by this Act and for which appropriations are hereby made, except as otherwise provided, shall be of fire proof construction, and that part of all plans and specifications for the erection of buildings pertaining to fire proof construction and the installation of fire protection, shall be submitted to, and approved by the State Fire Insurance Commission, before any contracts for erection or installation are made; and upon completion and before final estimate of the contract prices paid, shall be subject to inspection and approval by said Commission with regard to all matters pertaining to fire proof construction, or the installation of fire protection.

Provided that the purchase of equipment and furniture for buildings authorized to be constructed, added to or improved by this Bill, and of material and equipment for the installation of fire protection shall be contracted for by the State Purchasing Agent, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter L, of Title 125, of the Revised Civil Statutes of 1911.

The amounts appropriated in this Act are intended to cover the entire cost of the respective items, and it is especially provided hereby that all contracts and undertakings entered into, under and by virtue of the terms hereof, for improvements, enlargements and repairs on buildings and grounds, and for the construction of new buildings, and for furnishing and equipment of buildings, shall be made strictly within the limits and terms of the appropriations made for such purposes; and it shall be the duty of the manager and directors of the various institutions, in the construction and adoption of plans, specifications and contracts therefor, not to exceed such appropriations, nor to incur any obligations in excess thereof.

Provided that no money herein or hereby appropriated for any purpose shall be paid out to any person, directly or indirectly, upon any contract or agreement, made or existing between such person and the board authorizing the payment of same, where any member of such Board is of kin to such person by blood or marriage, or where such person is directly or indirectly indebted to any member of such board.

And provided further that no money herein or hereby appropriated for any salaries shall be paid to any person or persons who have not actually performed the duties required by the contract of employment, or who are away from such institutions where employed, or who are absent on leave of absence, in or out of the State, except during vacation time.

Section 3. The fact that the regular session of the Thirty-sixth Legislature adjourned without passing the general appropriation bills, and the further fact that public policy requires that proper provision be made for the maintenance and support of the State Educational Institutions with as little delay as possible, and the further fact that this special session of this Legislature will soon be on the last half of its session, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended and that this Act take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

Petitions and Memorials.

City of Dallas.

Commissioner of Streets and Public Property.

July 16, 1919.

Hon. J. C. McNealus, Senator, Dallas District, Austin, Texas.

Dear Senator: I am advised that there is now a bill before the State Legislature permitting boxing contests of a limited number of rounds.

I have just returned from France, where the Y. M. C. A. and Knights of Columbus provided this form of amusement and athletic development for our men, and certainly if good enough over there, why not here.

I hope you can see your way clear to support this bill when same comes up before the House or Senate for action.

Respectfully,

HAL MOSELEY,

Commissioner, Streets and Public Property.

Hal Moseley, Captain, in war with Germany.

A BILL
To Be Entitled

An Act authorizing cities and towns to re-assess cost of street and sidewalk improvements, granting cities and towns power to re-assess the cost of street and sidewalk improvements where prior assessment is erroneous or declared void; authorizing the procedure therefor, and declaring an emergency.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That in any case in which the public funds of any city or town may have at any time heretofore been, or may hereafter be expended, or its vouchers or certificates issued to any contractor, or any contract made therewith, for the special improvement, raising or lowering the grade of, opening, straightening, widening, paving, constructing, or grading of any street, avenue, alley, sidewalk, gutter or public way, or any part thereof, and if for any reason, no part of the cost of such improvement has been born by the abutting property or paid by the owner or owners thereof, either because an attempted assessment and enforcement thereof for the same was erroneous or void, or was so declared in any judicial proceeding, the City Council of Commission, or other governing body of any city or town shall have the power to proceed at any time to specially assess, or re-assess, such abutting property with such amount of the cost of such improvement as it deems proper but in no event shall the amount exceed the special benefits such property receives therefrom by enhanced value thereto, the amount of such special benefits to be determined on a basis of the condition of such improvement as it exists at the time of such assessment, or re-assessment; provided, that no such assessment, or re-assessment, shall be made without at least ten days written notice and an opportunity to be heard on such question of special benefit given to the owner or owners of such abutting property, provided that such notice may be served either personally or by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, published in said city or town; and provided, further, that the governing body of any such city or town shall have full power and authority to provide for all procedure, rules and regulations necessary or proper for such notice and hearing and to levy, assess and collect such assessment, or re-assessment; provided, further, that such assessment, or re-assessment shall be and constitute a lien upon such abutting property and a personal charge against the owner or owners thereof, which amount shall not be construed as becoming due, or having become due, before such assessment or re-assessment is properly made in accordance with the provisions with this Act: Provided that such assessment or re-assessment as hereinbefore provided shall be begun within three years after the completion of improvements contiguous to the property against which assessment or re-assessment is made and not thereafter, provided that in cases of re-assessments where the question of validity of the original assessment may be, or may have been, in litigation, the period of time during which it may be, or may have been, in litigation shall not be considered in computing said period of three years within which assessment or re-assessment shall be made; and provided, further, that any such assessment or re-assessment made by the governing body of any city or town with less than 5,000 inhabitants may equal the entire cost of sidewalk, curb and gutter, and the cost of any street improvement, exclusive of street intersections, and such governing body of such town, in making such assessment or re-assessment, shall follow the procedure prescribed in Articles 999 and 1000 of the Revised Civil Statutes of the State of Texas of 1911, in so far as applicable, but no such assessment or re-assessment shall be made in excess of the special benefits in enhanced value conferred thereby on the property abutting such improvement, nor until the owner or owners of such property shall have had notice, as provided above, and opportunity to contest such issue before such governing body under such rules and regulations as may, by ordinance, be prescribed by it, and such assessment, or re-assessment shall be and become due and payable in equal annual installments not less than five in number; provided that the owner of such property shall have the right to appeal from the decision of the governing board of any such town or city to the court of competent jurisdiction within twenty days after such re-assessment shall have been made, and upon failure to do so in said period, such assessment shall be final and conclusive upon such owner and property; and provided further, that the provisions of this Act to be cumulative of all powers heretofore granted to any city or town either by general or Special Act; and provided, further, that all Charter provisions of all cities and towns in this State heretofore adopted, relative to the subject covered by this bill and they are hereby validated.

Section 2. The fact that there is now no general law authorizing cities and towns to make re-assessment of the costs of street improvements against the abutting property where the prior attempted assessment has been erroneous or void, has prohibited many cities and towns from collecting the amounts expended by them for such improvements, even though they are still subsisting and constitute a real special benefits to the many respective properties upon which they abutt, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be, and the same is hereby suspended, and that this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and it is so enacted.

Whereas, the Supreme Court of the United States has held that upon interstate streams, the right to a proper division of the waters of said streams between the residents of all the states through which such rivers meander, is a principle that may be sustained in an action in which all the facts will be considered, to the end that no State will lose any of its rights, and all states have equal opportunity and benefit, and

Whereas, the Pecos River, which rises in New Mexico and flows through Texas, is important to the people of this State who have established extensive diversion works for the irrigation of arid and semi-arid lands that are susceptible of intensive cultivation when the supply of water from said river is available, and

Whereas, the increase in the diversion of the water of said stream by the people of New Mexico, if not restrained to the limits of the rights of those engaged, will be a detriment to the interests of the people of Texas and result in serious financial loss, and

Whereas, Texas is entitled to a proper division of the water supply of the Pecos River, and there should be some determination whether that equitable division is being allowed, and

Whereas, the Board of Water Engineers of the State of Texas, and the Attorney General of the State of Texas, are now making an investigation to determine the equitable rights of the people of Texas and the legal questions involved in said controversy regarding the waters of this stream; now therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the Legislature of the State of Texas, the House concurring, That if after the investigation now being conducted by the Board of Water Engineers of the State of Texas and the Attorney General of the State of Texas, it is the conclusion of these departments, that the rights of the people of Texas to the waters of the Pecos River are infringed by the diversion of said waters by the people of the State of New Mexico, or by any other agency, that the Attorney General be authorized to institute such legal proceedings as are necessary, in the name of the State of Texas, or in the name or names of individuals, irrigation companies, irrigation districts or the Board of Water Engineers of the State of Texas, as in his judgment should be done, to secure an adjudication of the controversy that has become of importance to the users of water from said Pecos River.
